Dream Maker Award Winners

Jazzmin Brooks and Dafina Bobo

Co-Winners Girl Category (Leadership and Achievement)

When they were 11 years old, Jazzmin Brooks and Dafina Bobo wanted to find a way to help girls to develop a sisterhood of high educational standards, leadership and a commitment to service. They formed Girls in Motion Minnesota. Today these high school juniors empower girls to lead dynamic and purpose-driven lives.

Adrienne Diercks

Individual Category
 (Leadership and Achievement)

Adrienne Diercks created Project SUCCESS, a model that uses goal-setting workshops, live theater and one-on-one support to help youth plan their paths before they graduate, ensuring they have the tools and vision needed to prepare for their future.

Cindy Reuther

Individual Category
 (Support For Girls And Women)

Cindy Reuther founded Laura Jeffrey Academy, the only girl-focused charter school in Minnesota and, perhaps, the only girl-focused, arts-infused, science, technology, math and engineering middle school in the world.

Women's Environmental Institute
 at Amador Hill

Women's Environmental Institute (WEI)

Organization Category
 (Support For Girls And Women)

The Women's Environmental Institute is an environmental justice organization that helps communities learn about and then organize on their own behalf to reduce their exposure to environmental toxics.
