

What Does Courage Mean to You?

CAMERAWOMAN: What does courage mean to you?

[Lines spoken by different girls in Kindergarten through 12th grade, who are unnamed in the video]

GIRL ONE: Courage to me means approaching things without fear.

GIRL TWO: Just to keep doing what you love.

GIRL THREE: I feel courage from the soccer field.

GIRL FOUR: Courage to me is willpower.

GIRL FIVE: Believing in yourself.

GIRL SIX: Courage is something that women can do from voting and being where they want to be.

GIRL SEVEN: Being brave and having faith in yourself.

GIRL EIGHT: Believing in yourself even when you may be most afraid to, or maybe I'm weary but still going out there and trying your best and believing in yourself always.

GIRL NINE: Courage to me is being able to do something you didn't think you could.

GIRL TEN: It means to me being brave or having faith in yourself.

GIRL ELEVEN: Courage to me means being bold, standing out, and standing up for what you believe in, for what you what stand for, and just being bold and just getting out there and doing what you want to do.

GIRL TWELVE: Courage for me is standing up for what you believe in and being yourself.

GIRL THIRTEEN: The grants provided by the Ann Bancroft Foundation allows girls like me to fulfill their passions and be the most courageous we can be.
