

ABOUT THE ANN BANCROFT FOUNDATION

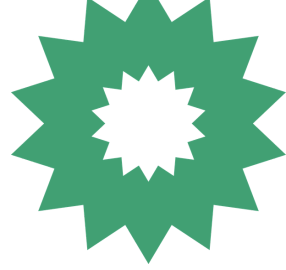

The Ann Bancroft Foundation supports girls and gender-expansive youth in Minnesota to live their dreams and imagine something bigger through grants, mentorship, and ongoing development opportunities. The Ann Bancroft Foundation envisions a world in which all who identify as a girl have a chance to live their dream and reach their full potential.

THE ANN BANCROFT FOUNDATION GRANT

The Ann Bancroft Foundation Grant program is a seed-grant up to $1,000 for girls and gender-expansive youth in Minnesota, including cisgender girls, transgender girls, nonbinary youth, and those whose experiences align with our mission of fostering confidence and opportunity to close gender equity gaps. Grant activities include art, cultural, leadership, STEM, outdoor adventure, travel, and sports/athletics activities or experiences.

Grant applications are accepted twice a year in the fall and spring, with spring applications due April 1 and fall applications due October 1.

SPREAD THE WORD!

The Ann Bancroft Foundation relies on community members to share about the grant programs with students and families they work with. The following pages include grant flyers that can be posted on school or community bulletin boards, and templates for sharing on social media or organization newsletters.

If you need additional resources or have other ideas for outreach, please email grants@annbancroftfoundation.org or call 612-338-5752.

MENTORSHIP

At the Ann Bancroft Foundation, the mentor is an integral part of the grant experience. Before applying for a grant, the applicant must self-identify a mentor who will help them navigate the application process, support them through the grant activity, and be a resource as they continue in the future. The mentor is the advocate in the application process – their contribution is factored into the grant selection process. The mentor may be a teacher, coach, family friend, youth group leader, or other positive adult role model. The mentor cannot be a family member or employee of the activity provider.

STEPS TO FINDING A MENTOR

1. Make a list of adults you know and trust. Your mentor could be your teacher, coach, school counselor, neighbor, family friend, or community member.
2. Think about who can support your goals, whose advice you trust, someone you can talk with openly and honestly, and is knowledgeable enough to advocate for you.
3. Decide which person would be the best to ask from your list.
4. Have a conversation with your mentor about your dreams, goals, and plans with the grant. Your mentor will then be able to advocate for you on your application.

FREQUENTLY ASKED QUESTIONS

Q: How do I complete a grant application?

The Ann Bancroft Foundation Grant application is all online in the Foundant portal where users can save and exit their application at any time.

If an applicant does not have Internet access, please contact the ABF office at the information below to make other arrangements.

Q: Who is an activity provider? What if I don't have an activity provider?

The activity provider is a group, organization, or individual that plans or facilitates activities to help improve quality of life and well-being. Examples of activity providers include art classes, outdoor programs, sports teams, or community organizations.

If you aren't sure who the activity provider is, please contact the Ann Bancroft Foundation office at the information below.

Q: Are there any restrictions for grant funding?

The grant activity must be completed within one calendar year of the award. If the activity falls outside of the range, the applicant is encouraged to apply for a future grant cycle when their activity is in one calendar year.

The Ann Bancroft Foundation does not provide funding for college tuition after graduating from high school, operational expenses for 501c3 nonprofit organizations, or re-grant requests.

Q: How and when will I be notified of a grant award?

All submitted grant applications will be reviewed after the posted deadline. Grant decisions take up to eight weeks after the deadline. Grant notifications will be sent via email to applicants, parents, and mentors.

Q: When are grant payments sent to an activity provider?

After awards are sent out, grant recipients must provide an invoice to the Ann Bancroft Foundation to receive their funds. Grant payment can take up to 30 days, so please keep this in mind if your activity provider has a specific payment deadline. Grant checks are mailed directly to the activity provider's mailing address on the invoice.
